Â Our Training and Placement Cell Team

The strength of any successful placement program lies in the dedication and coordination of its team. At Ramgarhia Polytechnic College, Phagwara, the Training and Placement Cell is steered by a committed team of experienced faculty members from diverse departments. Together, they bridge the gap between classroom learning and industry expectations by providing students with timely guidance, industry exposure, and placement support. Each member plays a focused role—whether it's communicating with top recruiters, organizing workshops, managing student data, or training students in soft skills and aptitude. Our goal is not just to place students, but to launch careers that are future-proof, purpose-driven, and globally aligned.
