Ramgarhia Polytechnic College, Phagwara Celebrates World Environment Day under the Theme: "A Tree for Her. A Future for Us." â€“ Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam On the occasion of World Environment Day 2025, Ramgarhia Polytechnic College, Phagwara organized a deeply meaningful and environmentally progressive event under the national campaign â€œEk Ped Maa Ke Naam â€“ Campaign 2.0â€•, inspired by the heartfelt theme: "A Tree for Her. A Future for Us." Under the visionary leadership of Principal Mrs. Rupinder Kaur, the event united students, faculty, and heads of departments in a collective act of gratitude â€“ where every sapling planted stood as a living tribute to the selfless love of a mother, and a solemn pledge to protect our planet for future generations. This powerful blend of environmental responsibility and emotional connection transformed the celebration into a movement â€“ reminding all that when we plant a tree in the name of our mothers, we sow the seeds of both remembrance and responsibility. The event also aligned with the United Nations' international theme for World Environment Day 2025: â€œEnding Global Plastic Pollutionâ€•, reinforcing our institutionâ€™s commitment to both greenery and sustainable living. The event featured: Tree plantations dedicated to mothers, planted by students and staff across the campus. Active participation of all departments under their respective HoDs, showcasing unity in action. A heartfelt commitment to nurture each plant as a personal promise â€“ for the Earth, for our roots, and for our shared future.
